Multimedia Toolkit

FKWI Vocational Training

Marhaennia English

DETC 620 - Dr. Terrence Warner

University of Maryland Global Campus

November 2024

Intro

1 Project Statement

The project aims to empower FKWI members and train them on skills to generate income.

FKWI

- A non-profit for trans people in Indonesia

2

3 Project Background

- A volunteer-run project
- Funding challenges

Consideration

- Cost-effectiveness
- Flexible pricing
- Functionality
- Accessibility features

4

5 Toolkit Selection

- Google Classroom
- Canva
- Audacity
- Zoom
- WhatsApp

Google Classroom

https://edu.google.com/intl/ALL_us/workspace-for-education/classroom

Google for Education

It is a learning platform that aims to simplify creating, distributing & grading.

- Free and paid access

01

Pros

- Free
- Multiple devices access
- Accessibility features
- Effective collaboration
- File sharing

02

Cons

- Use Google account
- Too many Google icons
- No automated updates
- No automated quizzes
- Limited cloud storage

03

Application

It can be used to manage blended classes:

- Content creation
- Content distribution
- Assignment grading.

04

Application

It is integrated with other Google apps for communication, collaboration, file sharing/storing

It has built-in accessibility

05

Canva

https://www.canva.com

1 Canva

It is an online design platform for visual content creation.

- Free for individuals, K-12 educators, and school districts.
- Paid: Pro, Teams, and higher education

2 Pros

- Free
- Easy to use
- User-friendly interface
- Large template options
- Multi devices access

3 Cons

- Pro is $120 per person yearly
- Teams: $300 for three yearly
- Unavailable for offline work
- Limited access to template library

4 Applications

Canva can be used to create:

- Presentations
- Videos
- Infographics
- Whiteboards.

5 Applications

It allows you to create instructional materials, incorporating texts and visuals to maximize learning outcomes.

Audacity

https://www.audacityteam.org

Audacity®

Audacity

It is free, open-source audio editing software and recording.

01

Pros

- Free
- Open-source
- Multiple devices access

02

Cons

- Requires some learning curves
- Unavailable for offline work
- Limited function on mobile versions

03

Application

Audacity can be use to create podcast for continuous learning.

04

Application

It can be used to do voice-over on training materials.

05

Zoom

https://www.zoom.us

ZOOM

1 Zoom

It is a communication platform for video conferencing.

- Free
- Pro: $15.99/ month for up to nine users
- Business: $21.99/month for up to 250 users

2 Pros

- Free
- Easy to use
- User-friendly interface
- Host up to 100 people
- Multi devices access
- Extensive integrations

3 Cons

- Limited-time meetings for free access (45 minutes)
- $192/year for Pro access
- Lacking some features on mobile versions

4 Applications

Zoom can be used for video conferencing and synchronous learning format.

5 Applications

It allows recording, enabling learners to revisit the recorded classes and learning materials.

WhatsApp

https://www.whatsapp.com

WhatsApp	Pros	Cons	Application	Application
It is a free messaging and conferencing communication platform. • Free	• Free • Multiple devices access • Group chats • Easy to use • Popular worldwide	• Data storage and security issues • Limited customer service	It can be used to communicate synchronously and asynchronously.	It allows continuous learning outside training hours; learners can ask questions or collaborate anytime.
01	02	03	04	05